THE PLEDGE BACK IN PRINT!

THE 1970s BEST SELLER, originally published by Simon & Schuster

THE INCREDIBLE STORY of the American underground that helped arm the unborn state of ISRAEL for its war of independence.

Millionaires and longshoremen, ex-GIs and students, Protestants, Catholics and Jews, raced to locate and deliver planes, ships, weapons, pilots, instructors...

An effort that turned cynics into idealists, scholars into adventurers, and respectable businessmen into smugglers.

Its headquarters was the HOTEL FOURTEEN on East 60th St. in Manhattan which it shared with the Copacabana nightclub's leggy show girls in the basement and the white-haired ladies who lived upstairs.

Leonard Slater spent over 30 years as a correspondent, writer, and editor for Newsweek, NBC News and Time magazine. Research for The Pledge was evoked by his recollections of Czechoslovakia and Israel in 1948.

ISBN 0-595-09297-7

9 780595 092970 52095

$20.95 U.S. / $34.95 CANADA

www.backinprint.com

Back inprint .com

iUniverse.com